Coast Guard Rescues 12 Off Tug And Barge

PENTWATER (AP) — Twelve crewmen were rescued today from a 128-foot barge towing tug which went aground approximately one-quarter mile offshore in rough Lake Michigan midway between Ludington and Muskegon.

All were brought safely to the Coast Guard station at Pentwater.

Rescue operations were carried out by Coast Guard lifeboats from Muskegon and Ludington, plus an amphibious airplane from Traverse City. The cutter Woodbine also was alerted and steamed toward the scene from Grand Haven.

The Coast Guard at Ludington received a radioed "Mayday" distress call from the tug, Olive L. Moore, at 3:35 a.m. Tug Capt. Robert Scully said his vessel was bound from Newport, Va., to Rockland, Me., with a 245-foot barge in tow when it began shipping water from an unknown cause.

Scully notified authorities that he was heading for land in an attempt to beach the tug. He reported winds of 20 knots from the southwest had kicked the lake into a heavy chop with waves ranging from 4 to 10 feet.

The Coast Guard aircraft spotted the tug aground about one mile north of the Little Point Sable lighthouse. The barge was grounded several hundred yards away.

Spokesmen said the tug crew had taken to life rafts. Six men from one were taken aboard the Muskegon lifeboat and the others were picked up by the Ludington craft.

Politics Invaded McNamara Burial

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Patrick McNamara, who loved a good political fight, would have enjoyed all the political undertones of his funeral Wednesday.

President Johnson led more than 800 dignitaries and just plain citizens who thronged into Holy Name of Jesus Church for the funeral Mass. Police estimated 5,000 more stood outside the church.

All had come to pay their final respects to Michigan's senior Democratic senator who rose from the ranks of labor to become one of the senate's most respected voices. McNamara died Saturday in Bethesda, Md., at the age of 71.

There was no denying, however, that politics was in the air.

Two of the three leading candidates for Sen. McNamara's seat were on hand — Democrat G. Mennen Williams, former six-term governor of Michigan and former undersecretary of state for African affairs, and Rep. Robert P. Griffin who seeks the GOP nomination.

Williams' primary opponent, Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, was in Paris on a Detroit business promotion trip, but he was represented by his wife, Mary, and their 11-year-old son, Patrick, named after McNamara.

Cameras clicked when the President who had walked out of the church a few feet ahead of Williams suddenly turned, walked back to Williams and gave him a sort of hug while whispering in Williams' ear.

The President and Mrs. Cavanagh had only a few seconds to chat as they shook hands under the canopy at the McNamara graveside.

Republican Gov. George Romney was one of the first to shake hands with Johnson after Mrs. Cavanagh moved along. "How are you, Mr. President... glad you could get to Michigan," Romney said.

President Johnson's one sentence reply was: "Governor, it is good to see you."

Everyone tried his best to keep the political issue in the background on the funeral day but it was hard to do.

The President, clad in a dark blue suit, sat through the 57-minute Mass and final prayers at the altar. Original plans had called for him to head back to Metropolitan Airport right after the church service but he donned a topcoat and went to the burial at Olivet Cemetery a quarter mile away.

Then he headed back to Washington.

Sen. Fulbright Blast Target Of Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater accused Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., today of carping criticism "that lends aid and comfort to our enemies" in Viet Nam, and said Fulbright should resign as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Goldwater said Fulbright "could do no greater service for his nation and the American fighting men in Viet Nam."

"His carping criticism of any show of American firmness brings joy to our enemies, it confuses our allies, and it demoralizes our troops," Goldwater said in a speech at a conference of some 3,000 Republican women.

Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee two years ago, said he was ashamed of the Democratic senator "telling the American people that our power has made Americans arrogant, and selfrighteous, and expansionist, and immoral."

"No American has the right or the justification to level such charges against his country," Goldwater said. "And that goes double for doing it in a time of war and in a fashion that lends aid and comfort to our enemies. And I don't care whether the American is a misguided Viet-nik or chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee."

Viet Nam War Spills Into Cambodia, Laos

21 Yanks Killed As Helicopter Falls In Flames

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — High-flying B52 bombers plastered the Viet Cong stronghold near the Cambodian border today for a fifth successive day.

The American Stratofortress dropped their 750-pound bombs on a suspected Communist arms factory and training area 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

Over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers renewed their attacks in force after a two-day lull during which their flights were almost washed out by monsoon rains.

In the renewed aerial assaults in the north, a U.S. spokesman reported that an F105 Thunderchief was shot down by enemy ground fire 65 miles northeast of Hanoi. The pilot parachuted and was seen on the ground but a rescue attempt was thwarted by heavy anti-aircraft fire.

It was the 229th U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam.

An Air Force F4 Phantom jet ditched off the coast of South Viet Nam near the Cam Ranh Bay air base, 170 miles northeast of Saigon, after it ran out of fuel Wednesday. Both crewmen ejected and were rescued.

All 21 U.S. servicemen aboard a U.S. Army CH-47 Chinook helicopter were killed when the helicopter caught fire and crashed Wednesday night in heavy jungle 110 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was one of the worst helicopter disasters of the war. A spokesman said the big helicopter "burst into flames in the air but there was no evidence of enemy action." Aboard were an Army crew of five and 16 soldiers.

U.S. and other allied combat dead nearly doubled last week, while the number of Viet Cong killed declined to the second lowest level of the year, the allied military commands reported.

The losses on both sides continued to reflect a relative lull in the ground war, with total casualties below figures earlier in the year.

A U.S. spokesman reported 70 Americans killed, 589 wounded and seven missing or captured last week compared with 35 killed, 547 wounded, and eight missing or captured in the week of April 17-23.

Since Jan. 1, 1961, a total of 3,152 Americans have been killed in battle or died of combat wounds.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 227 government troops killed and 29 missing compared with 93 killed and 33 missing last week. Wounded figures are not announced.

The Pentagon countered with an assertion that Gruening "apparently wants the American soldiers in Viet Nam to fight with junk."

McNamara has had a stormy year with Congress. On one hand, he has faced the complaints of lawmakers who oppose the U.S. position in South Viet Nam; on the other, senators and representatives who challenge the way the war effort is being managed.

With Gruening, he's in trouble on both counts.

Gruening Claims Gear Given Away Needed For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces a brush-fire war on Capitol Hill over the disposal of surplus military gear.

And Senate investigators added fuel with a charge that the Pentagon is discarding used but current models of military equipment, some of it virtually identical to newly ordered items.

The next formal engagement is due Friday, when the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures holds a public hearing on Air Force surplus equipment practices.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, the chairman, has accused the Defense Department of giving away for foreign aid used but repairable heavy equipment.

He said the cranes, bulldozers and tractors are desperately needed by American forces in South Viet Nam.

The Pentagon countered with an assertion that Gruening "apparently wants the American soldiers in Viet Nam to fight with junk."

Rabies Dangers Are Detailed By Health Dept.

The Delta-Menominee District Health Dept. today alerted residents of the area to the dangers of rabies in the spring.

"Although rabies is uncommon, it is always fatal unless promptly treated by a physician," a spokesman for the department said.

The disease is generally transmitted by animal saliva through an open wound, such as a bite. Each year about 30,000 people are forced to undergo rabies treatments.

Rabies is only found in the saliva of animals beginning with the two-to-three day period before the animal shows symptoms of the disease. The Health Dept. said this is why it is important an animal be confined 10 days after biting someone.

If the animal remains well for the 10-day period, then it is not infected with rabies and no treatment of its bite victim is necessary.

"Anyone bitten by an animal should make every effort to locate the animal and report the bite to local law officers," the Health Dept. said. "The animal should not be killed unless absolutely necessary because laboratory tests are not as accurate in determining if the animal has rabies as observation of the animal."

Inflation Is Here But Not Severe

That's Business Report To Bankers

Seven bankers and 20 Delta County businessmen conferred at a House of Ludington Wednesday night on inflationary influences locally and most of the businessmen represented said that they were influenced in some degree by them.

John Olin, a vice president and secretary of the 8th District Federal Reserve Bank at Minneapolis, the host, said that the meeting—one of several in the U. P.—sought to sound out the local business conditions to guide the Reserve Bank in its formulation of credit policy to control inflation.

The broad options for inflation control are to restrict credit (loans) to curb expansion or to tax off money to achieve the same result.

Olin said economists worry whether the economy is moving at an unsustainable pace, whether there is too great a demand for goods and that businessmen expect it to go on and will enlarge their production only to see demand slack off. There is more demand for new facilities now, he said, than there is credit to go around.

Rail Situation

Guy Knutson, Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad: "We are buying new equipment and mechanizing our maintenance of way and the prices are beyond our expectation. Manufacturers' deliveries are 30 to 60 days behind schedule."

Harry Middleton, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.: "People are paying their bills very well."

Dr. Norman L. Lindquist: "The only problem is the government; collections are not much of a problem and never have been."

Donald Wertz, Northern Motor Builders: "If ever there was a segment of the economy that is living off future income it's been the federal government. It should look to itself in curbing inflation. Price advances are a creeping sort of thing."

Economy Up

Atty. Robert LeMire: "I've never seen the economy of Escanaba better in my 28 years of practice. I have found that government subsidies have had a tremendous effect on the economy."

Hart Cardozo, WDBC: "There is absolutely no unemployment if people want to work (in radio) and more stability than when there was excess labor. It's harder to get equipment replacements—it's slower—but not serious. TV is the same."

Lawrence Knuff, Farmers Supply Co.: "The implement business is seasonal and when we need help we can't get it. We can't get tractors when we want them of the kind we want. I sometimes wonder if the right people get the loans; it seems anyone who wants a new car has no trouble borrowing money." (A Federal Reserve banker suggested: "They're paying more money than the businessman.")

More Taxes

Leo Alperovitz, Bay de Noc Community College: "The Delta County economy is sound, with prospects of jobs for graduates. The county valuation is up $2 million and that is good for us. We had 25 applications for a 4,100-a-year custodian job. We have a $1.25 an hour work study program and no trouble filling jobs, whereas downstate some schools can't fill the jobs offered because students earn more elsewhere."

Felix Johnson, livestock dealer and slaughterer: "I marvel to hear talk of prosperity. I didn't get it on it. Just when the farmer was going to get a break in February the President said we'll cut the price of food. Hogs dropped from 21c to 20c a pound. You folks are going hungry before you realize it from food shortages. A cattle dealer can't exist under the present conditions."

Lack Labor

Girard VanDamme, farmer: "We had a good potato year a year ago. We paid up to $2 an hour for men, women and children workers, but now we can't get them. Because of the Mackinac Bridge tolls it cost us $1000 more to deliver a load of potatoes in Detroit than to go round about to Toledo. We can go to Savannah, Ga., for the same price as Detroit."

Isadore Stein, the Leader Store: "Business is good; there is no shortage of merchandise so far. Manufacturers are working very close on inventories and less goods is available out of inventory."

About Erickson, American Timber Homes, Inc.: "Demand has never been better for rustic fencing but sales are curtailed by shortage of raw materials. We've had a 50 to 60 per cent in our home sales. It's difficult to get materials but it isn't as severe a shortage as in fencing."

No Loans

Mel Taylor, Schaffer poultryman: "The big problem is meeting the demands. Sales exceed production. We need money and the egg business can't borrow money. Delta County is losing $1 million a year or more to Iowa and Georgia because we don't produce our own eggs."

Eggs average 30 cents a dozen to the farmer and he's losing money and there are no eggs to be had."

White ribbon winners were: Patti Peterson, Debbie Peterson, John Verafien, Bob Fleetwood, Terry St. John, John A.

Assembly Planned At Rock School On Monday

ROCK — "Traveling the Globe with Tom Grimm," will be an interesting and educational high school assembly service program to be given at the Rock School on Monday, May 9, at 2 p.m. The public is welcome.

This program features the highlights of a young man's journey around the globe. Embarking on a 45,000 mile journey a few days after graduating from Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., in 1962, he was on the road more than a year during which time he visited 36 countries.

In this program, he will tell why he made the trip, how he did it and how others can make a similar journey. So that the information and program will be completely up-to-date, Grimm spent from February to August of 1965 in Spain, North Africa, Switzerland, Germany, Finland and north across the Arctic Circle.

Camping Fees Hiked By State

Starting June 1, vacationers will pay twenty-five to fifty-cents more a day at modern equipped state park campgrounds in Michigan, following action taken by the conservation commission.

Exact increase in camping fee will depend on the extent of electrical service available at campgrounds. At all first class campgrounds where every site has electricity, the current daily camping charge of $1.50 will be raised to a flat $2.00 fee. This increase will affect Wells State Park, Fayette State Park and Indian Lake State Park, according to the Conservation Department.

Actually, the basic camping rate will be increased only twenty-five cents at these campgrounds. The other twenty-five cents is a built-in cost covering the standard charge for electrical service. The new fees at campgrounds having modern facilities, but lacking complete electrical service is $1.75 per day, also effective June 1.

As before, another twenty-five cents will be charged daily at campgrounds for use of electricity where it is offered.

Campgrounds lacking up to date facilities will continue to carry daily fees of $1.50 per camping and twenty-five cents for electricity if it is used.

Trout Lakes Rated Best

Cold weather, high water and poor roads marred the April 30 trout opener with best success enjoyed on trout lakes. These should continue to be the best bet for the next several weeks, the Conservation Department reports.

Camp 7, Square, Wintergreen and Carr Ponds in Delta County, and Johnson and Swanzy Lakes in the Gwin area received the most attention.

Three two-pound brooks were reported from Swanzy Lake and rainbows were taken in Johnson Lake running 9-17 inches.

As water levels recede and the weather warms, stream fishing should improve.

The annual spring spawning run of rainbow is in progress in Marquette and Alger county streams and should continue to a greater or lesser degree through most of May.

The smelt spawning run is over.

Jumbo perch appeared in the Masonville area for a week or so, but appears to have terminated as of this writing. Little perch activity developed elsewhere.

The sucker spawning run is in progress in Delta County streams. In some it is just about over and in others just commencing, according to the Department report.

The College Helps

When Bay de Noc Community College opened in Escanaba three years ago the leaders of Delta County Community Concerts Association thought that it would help the Association.

The Association is at its annual task of selling membership again to get the money to finance next season's concert series and as it looks backward it reports that its belief that it would be aided by the college influence in Delta County has been realized.

The Association had 856 paid memberships in 1965-66. It was the largest membership in the history of the organization. Of the total, 256 were students.

Community Concerts operate in 1,500 communities of America so it isn't just the Delta County area that's offering its people such cultural programs. That they are being supported with increasing strength by the community is one of the most substantial indicators of deepening educational growth here.

There are 70 workers in the Delta campaign, canvassing the county. Few cultural endeavors can assemble such a strong work force. It is unpaid, rewarded only by the result that comes with the influence of the fine concert artists that it brings here.

Mrs. Tiny Stacy Greene has been a strong influence in the growth of our community music. She represented Community Concerts, Inc., of New York here since 1960 and the concert program has grown steadily under her leadership. Now Mrs. John L. Greene is retiring from concert tour work and settling down to life at Old Orchard Farm at Carroll's Corners and her leadership will be available all the time. It is a stroke of good fortune for Delta Community Concerts.

Next season's headline attractions for Community Concerts will include the Stockholm University Chorus of 70 voices and the Lee Evans Jazz Trio. The other two concerts will be selected at the end of the drive on Saturday.

The Revelers Male Quartet coming on Saturday, May 28 is a "bonus" concert, to which new members are invited.

If you're not contacted, call the Community Concerts headquarters at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, Dial ST 6-2650, to sign for this fine program.

Stamp Out Days' Day?

What is so rare as a day in June? It's a day in May that hasn't been appropriated as National This or That Day by some organization or other.

It is the same every month, but May particularly seems to have its share of special observances this year—some worthy, others little more than reflections of the gleams in the eyes of press agents.

May will only last for one month, as usual but according to Spinrad's Day & Date Service, it will be:

National Home Improvement Month, Senior Citizens Month, National Radio Month, National Tavern Month, Car Care Month, American Bike Month, National Salad Month, White Bread Sales Month and something no more than 180 million Americans should fail to observe—New York Is a Great Place to Visit or Live Month.

There are only four and a half weeks, but they will be spread over:

National Family Week, Goodwill Week, Mental Health Week, National Music Week, American Comedy Week, Senior Comedians Week, National Correct Posture Week, Be Kind to Animals Week, National Cotton Week and Let's Go Fishing Week. The postmaster general this year has added Mailbox Improvement Week.

The date of days includes: May Day, Law Day, Humane Sunday, World Comedy Day, National Comedy Day, May Fellowship Day and National Mother-in-Law Day.

We confess to a certain lack of enthusiasm for this last one, but there's something about Let's Go Fishing Week that appeals to us.

In fact, it might not be a bad thing if its annual observance were made mandatory world-wide.

The idea would certainly gain a lot of support in the U.S. Congress about this time of year, anyway.

The Doctor Says:

Disuse Tends To Waste Muscles

The human body has often been likened to a machine but there are important differences. For example, the more you use a man-made machine the sooner it will wear out. With our muscles and brains on the other hand, use is necessary to keep them going. With disuse they waste away.

A French scientist, Dr. Bourliere, has shown that those persons who are most careful to spare themselves in their youth and their productive years are the first to show signs of senility—sometimes in their middle 40s. Those who take the attitude that they would rather wear themselves out than merely rust out are the winners in the longevity race.

To believe, as we have so often been told in the past, that a man is as old as his arteries is to limit the aging process to a single body system. The process is not that simple. Heredity still plays a part in the rate at which we age but

"Quotes"

It will abolish the Electoral College itself, which is a potentially harmful anachronism, and it will keep the electoral principle, making sure that each state's electoral vote goes to the candidate who earns them.

Bayfield Indians Off Warpath

Revolt Over VISTA Ended

BAYFIELD, Wis. (AP)—Judy Rothman, 20, and Jill Hunt, 22, members of the domestic peace corps, have emerged from the tribal feud that their presence first stirred and now are being accepted by the Indians on the Red Cliff Reservation.

The basement of the tribal hall has been restored and is the base for activities ranging from baby sitting to tutoring to table tennis as part of the Volunteers in Service to America program.

Criticism among the Indians is muted now and in the minority. Red Cliff youths flock to the VISTA workers, a Bayfield businessman said, "as if they were born and raised on the reservation."

Miss Rothman, of University City, Mo., and Miss Hunt, of Kewanee, Ill., arrived last October at the tribe's invitation as part of the federal anti-poverty program. Two months later the tribal council voted to expel them, a padlock was placed on the door of the tribal hall and the sheriff was asked to enforce them into exile.

Some Indian elders charged that VISTA offered only an unneeded recreation program. They said the two volunteers spurned suggestions to start other tribal projects. The two workers left, but in January the tribe's ruling body reversed itself and invited them to return.

"There are a lot of benefits to what happened," Miss Rothman said. "Just the fact that it did blow up brought about community awareness. Of course, there were certainly better ways of doing it."

Alex Gokee, 46, one of the council members who voted against VISTA's return, now says the program "sounds all right."

The frame homes here resemble those of any rural area, but they bear the scars of winter and scarcity. Some are unpainted wooden shacks.

Work sporadic. Many of the Indians are laborers. Work can be sparse and sporadic.

All too often life moves with a limp.

"There's not much to do at Red Cliff," said Karen Daley, the dark eyed daughter of the tribal chairman, "VISTA gives you something to do, someplace to go."

The recreation center is dominant in VISTA's daily activities. On a Saturday afternoon, the endless tynpny of a pingpong ball comes from a table at one end of the 50 foot long recreation room. The room's furnishings are completed by a soft drink machine, a juke box and

More than 150 persons attended the Red Buck District Boy Scout Dinner held in the basement of Bethany Lutheran Church. New officers introduced included Ray L. Rose, Escanaba, chairman, succeeding Clarence Zerbel who had held the office for 10 or more years. Glenn Mathison, district commissioner, Escanaba; William Fisher, assistant district commissioner, Escanaba.

A proposed Ludington Park service building would be given further consideration by the City Council after studies and cost estimates were completed on plans for the construction of a central city equipment storage building near the present city garage.

25 Years Ago

Approximately 150 girls of the Escanaba Junior High School belonged to the Girls Athletic Association, an organization new to Escanaba this year. This group, which includes girls of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, promotes athletic activities outside of school.

Selection of the two prize winning plays in the Escanaba Civic Theatre One-Act Play Writing contest was made by judges appointed by the Civic Theatre group. One prize winning play was entitled "Females Only" and was written by Leslie Londo of 510 S. 14th St. Those individuals acting as judges were Mrs. George E. Bean, Robert Deo and Whitney Dixon.

W. G. Hanson, 816 S. 16th St., Escanaba, opened the entry lists of the annual Daily Press Fishing Contest with a hefty rainbow trout that he took from Haymeadow creek on the second day of the season. The fish weighed 5 1/2 pounds. It went 25 1/2 inches in length and was 3 1/2 inches in girth. Nightcrawlers on a spinner furnished the lure that killed this trout.

Ann Landers

Wear Something Else And Please The Bride

Dear Ann Landers: I have written to you about this problem three times but you have never printed my letters. If you knew how desperate I am, you'd help me.

I'm the girl from Quebec with the clammy hands. I am 15 years old and I loathe dances because I hate to have a fellow feel my sweaty palms. When I'm introduced to an adult I know I should shake hands, but I nod instead because of my problem.

I'm becoming so self-conscious it is spoiling my whole life. Before you say I'm nuts please let me explain that it isn't just a little dampness that I am writing about. My hands really get wringing wet—as if I had held them under a running faucet.

A couple of years ago I thought I'd outgrow it but it's getting worse instead of better. Please help me.—DESPERATE

Dear Desperate: If you have not seen a skin doctor I recommend it. He can prescribe medication that will reduce the perspiration.

If you continue to be conscious of your hands, wear wrist-length gloves. If THIS doesn't put your mind at ease, you have an obsession (which means an abnormal fix) and a head doctor is the only answer.

Dear Ann: Thirty years ago my wife and I proudly named our first born after me. We called him Junior throughout his school years. So did everyone else.

Several months ago I began to receive mail which was obviously meant for him. The envelope read Mr. Junior. I asked my son about it and he said, "I am sick of this Junior stuff. It's O.K. for kids, but when you're grown up it's ridiculous. I decided to drop the Jr. and call myself Mr. Junior."

I was shocked and hurt. I am a Jr. and was proud to be called Junior until my father passed away. I am also upset because my son has been signing legal documents without the Jr. and I fear they may not be valid.

What do you know about this? Please advise me.—SAD SENIOR

Dear Sad: I don't know nearly as much as a lawyer and I urge you to consult one.

If your son dislikes the Jr. for emotional reasons that's one thing, but there may be some legal complications, and if

Puppy Is Kept Alive By Crow

LIVINGSTONE, Zambia (AP) — For six days a puppy, trapped in an animal snare, was kept alive by a crow.

Both animals belong to a couple living at a temporary road construction camp.

Recently the puppy disappeared. The couple searched in the thick bush surrounding the camp but no trace of it could be found.

Then they noticed that their pet crow, brought to them by a servant, did not seem to be eating normally.

The crow would take a bit of food in its beak, fly off and return a short while later to fetch another scrap of food. The crow, which normally ate his food straight out of the dish, would then repeat the performance.

The couple followed the crow when it flew off again with a prize piece of meat. Keeping just ahead of the couple, the crow led them to the spot where the dog lay trapped.

The dog, they found, was in almost perfect health.

Dr. William MacNae, zoologist at Johannesburg's Witwatersrand University commented: "This is further proof that birds especially crows, can become animal lovers themselves."

A zoo official said crows had a tendency to form unusual friendships and when put to the test were usually courageous and faithful allies.

Not Easy To Tell Position In Race

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you forging ahead in life's rat race? Or are you just a treadmill mouse that has fallen behind?

Surprisingly, many people don't know for sure. It isn't always easy to tell. There are, however, certain symbols of status. Here are a few unmistakable signs:

Your wife raises by at least $1 the amount she daily doles out to you as lunch money.

One of the two or three television sets in your home is a color set.

Some of the officials at the bank where you keep your checking account recognize you when you enter. If your account is occasionally overdrawn, they don't make a federal case of it.

At quitting time you don't have to tote home a briefcase stuffed with newspapers just to prove how hard you are working.

Instead of talking about office problems, the boss likes to chat with you about his golf scores.

If you don't have an office of your own, at least your desk is by a window with a nice view.

The senior vice president hates you and regards you as a conniving young whippersnapper.

All the other ambitious guys your age in the office secretly dislike you, too, although they try to be publicly palsy-walsy.

When you pause to compliment your pastor after his Sunday sermon, he pats you on the arm as he shakes hands.

If the firm buys a table at a public dinner, you and your wife get your tickets weeks ahead of the event—not the day before after some other executive decides he can't make it.

You have become so important that no one else in the organization any longer can steal your ideas without at least giving you credit for them.

The boss's wife confides to your wife what an old meanie her husband is around the home.

You feel free to have a martini at lunch without gulping three packages of mints afterward to kill your breath.

Your wife realizes that you are so tired from making big decisions at the office all day that she doesn't mind going alone to P-TA meetings.

You decide that the college you went to isn't good enough for your children. It doesn't have quite the right standing.

The new friends you make dress better than the old friends you now see less often, but every once in a while you wonder if you really like them as well or trust them as much.

You get paid once a month instead of once a week like the office peons, and the office mails your check directly to your bank.

If you wear bow ties, the office boys start wearing bow ties also.

That's the best of all success signs. When the office boys start imitating you, you know you're a winner.

Voters League Delegates At National Meet

The Upper Peninsula is represented by two delegates at the National League of Women Voters convention which will close Friday in Denver, Col.

They are Mrs. Wilbur Hass, president, and Mrs. S. T. Sandell, member of the Michigan board, and both from the Houghton-Hancock League.

The 1,200 voting delegates will select the national issues on which they wish to concentrate for the next two years. The agenda includes addresses by Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the department of housing and urban development; William J. Boyd, senior associate of the National Municipal League; and C. Montgomery Johnson, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Washington.

The smaller Leagues have sought to limit the National program to fewer items, so that more time could be devoted to projects and services on local issues.

Three members of the Escanaba League of Women Voters will attend Gov. Romney's conference on Strengthening Local Government, which was rescheduled and will be held May 12 at Marquette.

Attending from Escanaba will be Mrs. Earl Owen, voters service chairman; Mrs. Frank Neumeier, presently on the Escanaba Charter Review Committee; and Mrs. N. L. Lindquist, local president.

Danforth

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson of Washington, D. C. and Mr. Larson's father, Peter Larson, have returned to their homes after a visit with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Larson are residing in Milwaukee.

Word has been received by Mrs. Albin Nygaard of Soo Hill that a son of her nephew in Gothenberg, Sweden has been selected to be an exchange student for one year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Anderson of Pocahontas, Iowa. He is Caj Skoglund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Skoglund and will leave August 15. A student, Thomas Gardner of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., will be an exchange student at the home of Caj's parents.

Requiem To Be Saturday For Rebel's Widow

DETROIT (AP)—Requiem mass will be read in suburban Berkley Saturday for Mrs. Robert Monteith, 94, widow of a leader of the Irish rebellion against British control.

Mrs. Monteith died Tuesday in a hospital here. Her husband died in 1856 at the age of 77.

Capt. Monteith and revolutionary leader Roger Casement were landed in Ireland from a German submarine in 1916, during World War I. Casement was caught and executed, but Monteith escaped to the United States.

Over-Grazing Kills Pasture

Let the height of the grass determine the time to turn your dairy cows out on pasture this spring, advises Jack Little, Michigan State University extension dairyman. This works better than using a calendar date, the specialist reminds.

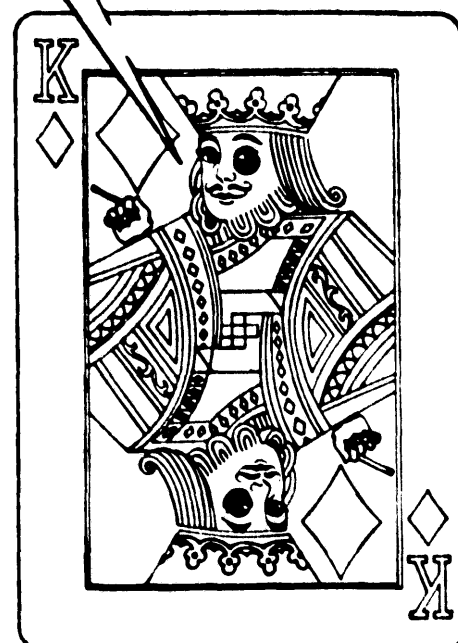

Little says that over-grazing of spring pastures is one of the chief causes of (a) low productivity, (b) thin stands, and (c) weed growth, particularly on permanent pastures. The common June grass and white clover mixture should be allowed to make a growth of 4 inches and rotation pasture 6 to 8 inches before turning on in the spring.

The specialist further adds that continuous close grazing diminishes root reserves. In this weakened condition, plants are unable to make satisfactory recovery and produce satisfactory yields. The common practice is to turn on too early in the spring, overstock, and pasture late in the season. Under such conditions, plants do well to survive even with the most favorable soil and climatic conditions.

Little also reminds dairy herd operators that cows producing over 15 to 20 pounds of milk a day should be fed some grain to keep them in good flesh and hold up the milk flow. Since grass is high in protein, home-grown grains are sufficient. No protein concentrate is needed.

Research shows that cows on spring pasture produce as well on home-grown grains alone as when protein supplements are added. It is advisable to have dry hay available to cows all during the pasture season.

MRS. MARK WILSON, 56, of Ypsilanti, Mich., whose heart stopped beating more than 50 times, has lived to tell the tale and is now at home doing light housekeeping chores. "I remember once hearing the doctor say I was dead," Mrs. Wilson said. (AP Wirephoto)

Cong, Masters Of Booby Trap

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP)—One of the most important weapons of the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam is the booby trap. American soldiers say the Communist guerrillas have considerable talent for inventing the death-dealing devices.

Capt. A.R. Foss of Sioux Falls, S.D., commander of Company C of the 1st Battalion, 27th Infantry Wolfhounds, says the Viet Cong "are masters at booby trapping."

"There are thousands of booby traps," Foss said, "but one of the most unusual I have seen was a water jar filled with explosives and pieces of glass and pieces of metal. It looked innocent enough, but if someone had kicked it while searching this house, it would have really messed him up."

"Another one the VC like is a shell—usually a small arms shell—under a shield of bamboo stuck in the ground. When you step on it, it pushes the cartridge down onto a nail and it goes up through your foot."

Foss was running an operation north of his base camp at Cu Chi when his men recovered some American grenades that Communists had captured.

Foss picked up one to carry on a patrol and discovered a small dot of red paint on the release handle.

Becoming curious, he checked the grenade and found the Viet Cong had removed the delay mechanism so the grenade would explode the instant the pin was pulled.

"That's one of their favorite tricks," Foss said. "A lot of booby traps will be marked if you look carefully. Red is the almost international mark for booby traps. It might be a red slash on a tree or just a piece of bamboo with a red mark on it. That means for their people to watch it. You can usually find the marks if you look."

The city of Darwin, capital and chief port of Australia's Northern Territory, was founded in a gold rush in 1869.

Former Escanaba Girl Gains Chef Status In Ypsilanti

A former Escanaba girl and former school teacher is gaining stature among the gourmet chefs of Ypsilanti.

She is Mrs. Raymond H. Saari, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Myers, 1220 S. 15th St.

Because of teaching school, Mrs. Saari favors time-saving meals. She also favors unusual foods and has developed to her liking such dishes as Hawaiian chicken and Chinese pepper steak.

A graduate of Escanaba High School and of Eastern Michigan University, Mrs. Saari has retired from teaching with the arrival of newly-adopted son, Raymond Edward.

Here's her recipe for Hawaiian chicken:

1 frying chicken, cut up;
1 teaspoon ginger;
garlic salt
1 can pineapple chunks with juice

Butter long, flat baking pan and put chicken pieces in it so that pieces are separate. Put pat of butter on each piece and sprinkle ginger over all of it. Season with garlic salt to taste. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Pour pineapple chunks and juice over chicken and return to oven to bake another 45 minutes. Serve with rice. Serves four.

Hinged In Middle:

Lakes Vessels
1,000 ft. Long
Called Possible

DETROIT — On the Great Lakes, the best ships are the most profitable ships.

Beginning with that adage, a visiting scientist at the University of Michigan Department of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering takes a look at the future of Great Lakes shipping and described how to make the best ships.

Dr. Odo Krappinger, at the U-M on a year's leave from the University of Hamburg in Germany under an Institute of Science and Technology grant, told naval architects the best ships are likely to be huge.

The result of a six-months study, which he delivered here today, before a meeting of the Great Lakes and Great Rivers section of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Architects, indicate new ships may reach lengths of 1000-feet.

Largest Best
This would be comparable to the world's largest passenger ships and aircraft carriers, he noted.

Briefly Told

Amvets Post 123 and Auxiliary will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the Amvets Hall.

An immunization clinic will be held by the Health Department at the Delta County building in Escanaba between 2 and 4 p.m. Friday.

Barbershoppers meet this evening at 8:01 at Carpenters' Hall. This is one of the two remaining rehearsals before the chorus appears at Treenay on May 14. All members are urged to attend. Lunch will be served.

The Hyde Kings and Queens 4-H club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the Ford River Township Hall. Ribbons for modeling for the Young Miss Group will be given and the summer club activities will be established. Included will be election of officers, selection of committee-men for the cemetery project, the number of meetings to be held during the summer months and the kinds of activities and projects to be carried.

Great Lakes ships will take this size primarily, Dr. Krappinger said, because the new locks at Sault Ste. Marie will accommodate ships of almost twice the displacement of any now on the lakes.

His study takes into account the new emphasis on beneficiated iron ore which will come from plants newly opening up in Minnesota and Michigan's Upper Peninsula. It presents to engineers and business managers the cost facts needed to design the most profitable ships — i.e. the largest practicable.

But Great Lakes shipyards can't build ships large enough to fully utilize the benefits of the new locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

This means efficiency in shipping is lost.

Bend In Middle

Today, however, University of Michigan naval architects and marine engineers told a group of their colleagues meeting here how to use the locks and shipyards to fullest advantage. Their solution: Build a ship in two sections and hinge it in the middle (or amidships).

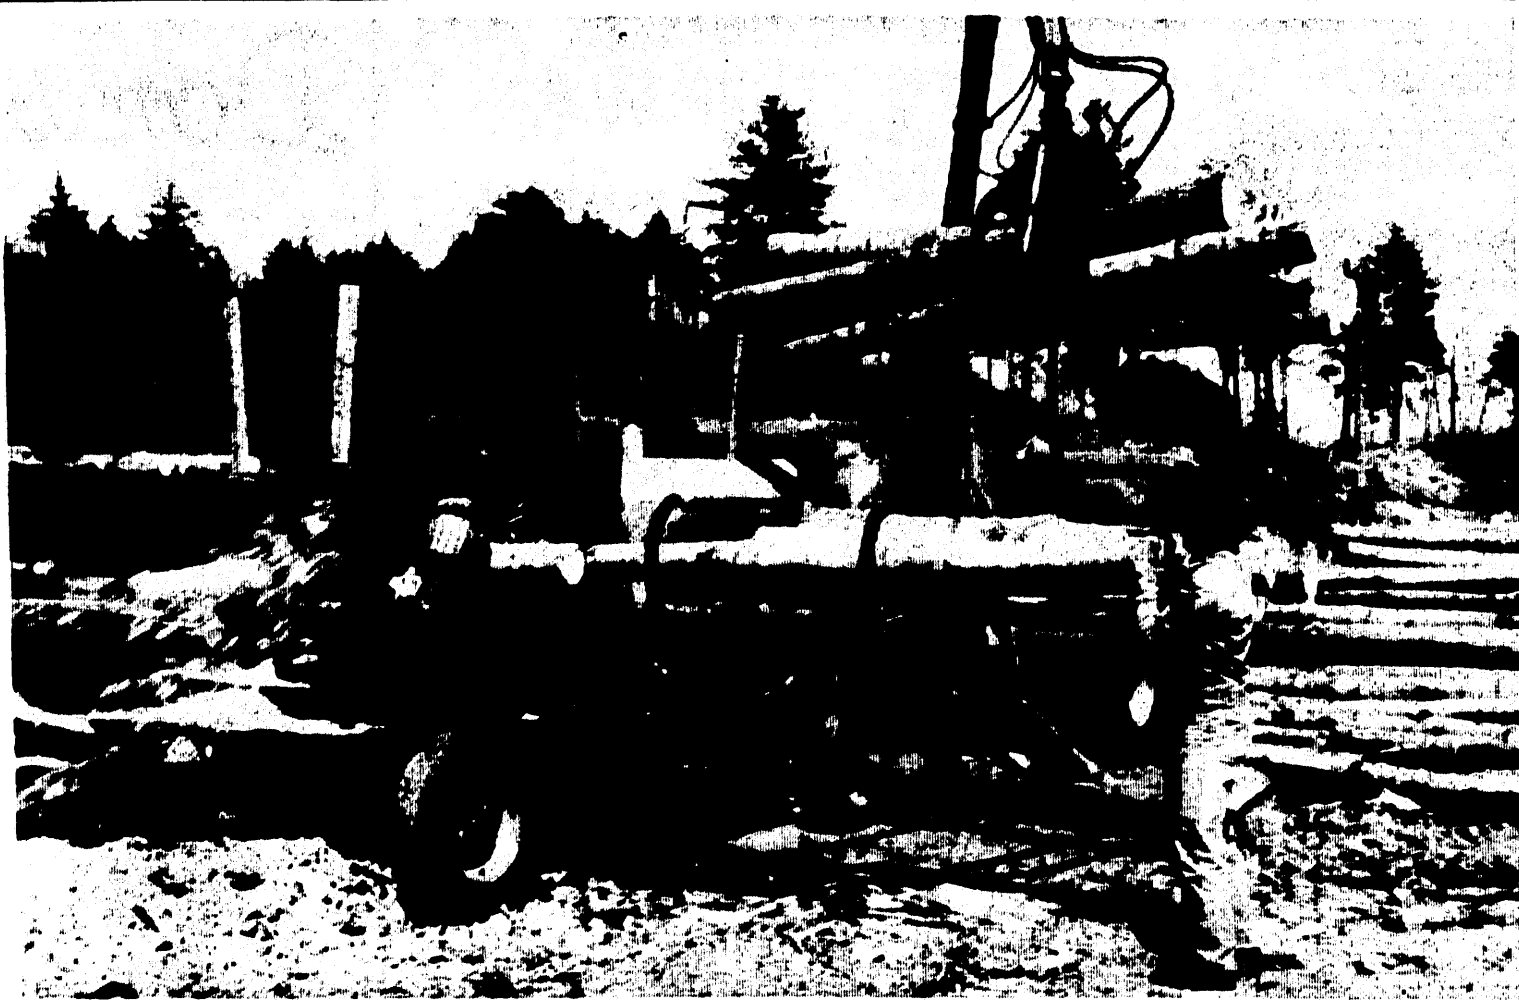

Two 500-foot sections could then be built and joined to form a 1000-foot ore carrier, they pointed out.

The hinge, which divides the hull at mid-length, allows the ship to bend up and down as it meets waves. This action reduces the tendency for the ship to break in two. As a result, the structure can be made lighter.

This leads to cheaper ships with increased cargo capacity, the U-M naval architects explained: A 20 per cent total saving in cost of hull construction could be gained.

Shipowners on the Great Lakes are interested in this idea particularly because there are no shipyards on the Lakes capable of building or dry-docking the 100-foot ships allowed by the new lock at Sault Ste. Marie.

With a hinged design, it was noted, the vessel could be built in halves on existing building ways and it could, when necessary, be taken apart for dry-docking.

KOTH FOREST PRODUCTS, Inc., of Escanaba demonstrated one of its Soderham debarkers in the wood yard at Escanaba Division of Mead Corp., Groos on Wednesday. Here the debarker is shown in action debarking a poplar pulpwood stick. Called the "Cambio", the machine works on the cambium layer between bark and wood. At this time of year the bark is stripped off easily, the demonstration for wood suppliers and millmen showed, but the Swedish-made machine can be used in any season. It comes in several sizes and can be used as a portable unit, as shown here, or as a stationary machine. Debarking of wood is an increasing practice. Once done mostly at the mill, except for sap-peeled poplar and hardwoods, the debarking process is now moving to the forest to reduce waste haulage and to ease the mills' pollution problems with effluents. The superintendent said that he and the people of the Flat Rock community feel the programs "fill a need and are very much worthwhile for our children."

It's A Brook Trout,
Fish Biologist Says

That large trout Vern Viau of Rte. 1, Bark River caught in Squaw Lake in Marquette County last Saturday was identified today as a brook trout by Clifford Long, Escanaba district fish biologist for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

The ruling apparently ended any debate over whether the fish was a near-record brook trout or just a large splake.

According to state records, the fish is the second largest brook trout ever landed in Michigan.

Long said he was sending a full report on the catch to state headquarters in Lansing today.

The listed state record for brook trout is 31 1/4 inches at

New Second Place

Viau's catch measured 27 inches and weighed 6 1/2 pounds, which exceeded the previously listed second place brookie caught in Whitefish Bay of Lake Superior in 1934. That fish weighed 6 pounds, one ounce and was 22 1/2 inches long.

Viau's trout has definite brook trout coloring, but also had the slight fork in its tail which is characteristic of the splake. A splake is a cross between a brook trout and lake trout and grows considerably larger than brook trout.

Squaw Lake had been planted with splake as well as brooks.

Long said that as early as 1956 he made a report that with management by the department, it was his opinion that Squaw Lake could produce an outstanding trout fishery with trophy-size fish.

Lake Restocked

Squaw Lake was treated and restocked with trout beginning in 1958. A better water level control system also was installed, Long said.

Viau landed the fish about 7:15 a.m. He was fishing with minnows and spinning tackle.

He said he plans to have the fish mounted.

Unfortunately, the state record brook trout met a less preserving fate.

If that one had been mounted, perhaps Viau would own a much-prized record.

Popour

In loving memory of Claudia Popour, who passed away five years ago today, May 5th:

Five years ago she passed away into her master's keeping. Who gave us these consoling words: Not dead, but only sleeping. She heard the voice we could not hear. Which said, she must not stay. She saw the hand we could not see. Which beckoned her away. She left us all with memories That hold very dear. And often as we think of her, We feel that she is near.

Kiss Is Danger To Astronaut

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A wife's welcoming kiss to a returning astronaut possibly could kill him unless his diet in space included plenty of down-to-earth germs.

This could mean that astronauts may have to take bacteria pills shortly before returning to earth after extensive space travels.

Dr. T. D. Luckey of the University of Missouri Medical School discussed the potential danger of a lack of bacteria during a symposium at the convention of the American Society for Microbiology.

He said spacemen's sterile air, food and water eventually could dangerously reduce the amount of bacteria in their systems.

The result, he said, could be bacterial illness when they come back to the bacteria-ridden earth.

The bacteria pills, he said, could restore the normal balance so that the astronaut would be more immune to the bacteria on earth.

Luckey said his speculations were based upon studies he conducted with guinea pigs and rats.

Council For A Day:

EHS Students Take Hard Look At City Affairs

An attitude of concern for Escanaba city government's policy makers and sometimes critical insight into municipal affairs highlighted the meeting of the mock Council of Escanaba Area High School government students today.

The 18 young people from the Area High School spent today observing first-hand the operations of city government, which has been the focus of concentrated study for them. Each student concentrated on one facet of the complex organization of city government for the day; and each will be responsible for a detailed report to their group and to the 275 students who remained in the classrooms in the nine government classes at the High School.

City Council

The students and their areas of observation:

City Council - Tom Brayak, mayor; Jim Hansen, Joe Milecki, Mari Miller and Fred Gravelle.

Rick Dewar, city manager; Marietta Carlson, city clerk; Judy Christensen, assessor; John Anderson, controller; Bob Mayra, engineering; Jim Miller, police chief; Joe Strahan, fire chief; Sue Cousineau, public works; Jackie Embs, steam department; Mike McKie, water and sewage; Bob Swanson, electric; Bob Carlson, purchasing.

Rosalie Breault was municipal judge.

Students were accompanied by John Connelly, who with Mrs. Elnora Vander are the two instructors who teach only government at the High School.

Express Concerns

A full year of government is now required for graduation and is usually taken in the senior year, but a few juniors are generally admitted to the course.

Cold Virus May Be Life Saver

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don't curse that cold — it may be saving your life.

The possibility that nonfatal virus infections such as the common cold may protect many humans from cancer and leukemia came Wednesday at the annual meeting of the American Society for Microbiology.

Dr. E. Frederick Wheelock of Western Reserve University School of Medicine said competition between different kinds of viruses in the human cell may result in the death of one kind, thus producing immunity against the disease caused by the losing virus.

Wheelock disclosed new research in which he said he made mice temporarily resistant to leukemia, a form of blood cancer.

He found indications the immunity resulted from direct competition between viruses, rather than from production of a newly found cell substance called interferon.

"We know that leukemia in mice is caused by a virus," Wheelock told a news conference. "We have recently proved that in mice leukemia can be controlled by injections with another benign virus."

"If leukemia in humans is caused by a virus — and this has yet to be proved — it is possible that nonfatal virus infections such as colds may be good for us. The benign viruses may be interfering with the growth of cancer viruses, which could be present in all of us."

Improved Trout Action Forecast

HERMANVILLE — Trout streams in the Falthorn area — the Turner, DeHaas, Pemeene and Harter — should have improved activity with receding water this weekend, according to conservation officers.

The Vega Creek north of Hermansville also should be better.

Conservation officers reported water still high in the Wilson and 47 creeks. Roads to all streams are reported in good condition.

Opening weekend action was slow, though Edward LeMaide of Hermansville checked in with two nice brook trout.

Dispute Halts Construction On New Poe Lock

SAULT STE. MARIE — A work stoppage still held the massive Poe Lock construction project in its grip Wednesday and a union official expressed fears that a prolonged stoppage might create a shortage of certain skilled craftsmen.

The stoppage resulted from a dispute between The International Union of Operating Engineers and McNamara Construction Co. More than 600 employees are involved in the stoppage of work on the 40.3 million project.

William Morrow of Escanaba, Upper Peninsula business representative for the operating engineers, said, "We're not involved in a strike, and I can't carry these men back to their jobs. All they want is some assurances of an equal treatment notice that will be fair to both parties and I'm certain they'll be happy to return to work."

Morrow said the construction crafts market is tight and he's been told that some of the craftsmen furloughed from their jobs in the Sault by the walkout have packed up and gone to other heavy construction areas.

Milwaukee Is Seeking Arrest Of Nude Bathers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A man and woman who police said bathed nude at a "happening" before 250 persons will be charged with lewd and lascivious conduct even if authorities don't know who they were.

Albert M. Stanich, assistant district attorney, said warrants would be requested today for the arrest of the couple who sat in separate, two-foot high beer coolers at an exhibition staged by a club last week at the Milwaukee Art Center.

Stanich said authorities still had not learned the names of the couple Wednesday night, but added John and Jane Doe warrants would be sought if necessary.

Stephen French, an art professor at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, said, "It was not our intent to be shocking or tactless or somehow unseemly. The nudes were used purely for artistic ends."

French, director of the club, said, "We might do it again some other place — it would depend on the circumstances, with a mature audience and the proper setting. But we certainly wouldn't want to do it again in Milwaukee. We misjudged the milieu of Milwaukee."

Over 200 Athletes Entered

Central Track Meet Slated Here Friday

A field of over 200 athletes from nine schools will compete in the 15th annual Central League track and field meet at the Escanaba Athletic Field Friday.

Represented will be defending champion Rapid River, Garden, Trenary, Cooks, Eben, Nahma, Rock, Perkins and Bark River.

The current crop of Central runners and jumpers will be attempting to accomplish something that hasn't been done in three years when they shoot at the present league records. There hasn't been a new Central League standard set since the 1962 season when five of the current records were established.

Some of the stars of last year's meet will be back in action, and several have the ability to challenge the league records.

Phil Hartman of Cooks was a double winner last spring in the pole vault and 440 yard dash and could press the vaulting record of 10 feet 8 inches.

Dick Forslund and Pat Larabee will be gunning for Rapid River points in the dashes and long jump.

Steve Pyke of Rapid River has reached 44 feet in the shot put this spring, close to the 44-7 record.

Other outstanding performers back in action include Don Saxon and Darrel LaVigne of Garden and Gene Bezzi of Rapid River.

Meet managers are Dave Peltier of Garden and Bill McGovern of Rapid River.

Other head officials of the meet include Joe Vestich of Perkins, clerk of course; Norm Slough of Rapid River, starter; Walter Peters of Rapid River, scorer, and George Weingartner of Rock, head timer.

Action in the pole vault, shot put and preliminaries in the short running events will begin at 10:45 a.m. Athletes will take a break at noon and resume action at 12:45.

Archers Meet Here Sunday

The Red Buck Archery Club will meet Sunday, May 8, at the Red Buck range at 2 p.m. It was announced today by Henry L. Auge, president.

In case of inclement weather the meeting will be switched to Auge's home at 917 14th Ave. S.

"The meeting is of an emergency nature and the cooperation of the entire membership is solicited to help solve the problems incurred in attempting to obtain range inspection approval for the coming tournament in Escanaba," Auge stated.

Eligibility of members wishing to participate in tournament shoots this year also has been changed and these requirements will be presented to members.

The changes have resulted from the fact that the Michigan Archer's Association has joined the National Field Archer's Association, Auge said.

Weather Hits Golf Tourney

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer rule as favorites in the $117,000 Champions International Golf Tournament but the best bet is for rain.

It has showered here all week as players tried to get in practice and today's opening round was threatened by more of the same as the 97 pros and four amateurs waited to see whether they would get a chance at the 7,118-yard par 36-35-71 Cypress Creek layout.

Doug Sanders, Gay Brewer, Ben Hogan, Jack Burke and defending champion Bobby Nichols are among other favorites. During a pro-amateur in light rain Wednesday, both Nicklaus and Palmer failed to break par. Nicklaus shot a 72, good for $80 while Palmer had a 73 for $23.33.

Ken Venturi shot a four-under-par 67 for the low score on the Cypress course and pocketed $350 while Rod Funseth and Billy Maxwell had four-under-par 68s on the club's adjacent par 72 Jackrabbit layout which netted them $325 each.

In This Corner with Roy Crandall

A former star halfback at Northern, Dave Fleet, has been inked to a professional football contract by the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League. Fleet, a native of Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, was a Little All-America halfback at 5-10 and 165 pounds. In his three year career under Frosty Ferzacca at Northern he carried the ball 154 times for 820 yards, caught 10 passes for 222 yards, returned 40 punts for 696 yards and ran back 35 kickoffs for 792 yards while scoring a total of 13 touchdowns.

Bay de Noc Beagle Club members tuned up for their weekend trials at the club's running grounds near Hyde by taking top honors in the Sault Beagle Club Class B trial over the weekend. Beagles owned by John Mackie, Jerry Dupont, Dick Mitchell, Matt Lewis and Al Mortier were among the leaders in the first event of the season at Soo.

The Soo Blue Devils, defending Upper Peninsula Class A-B track champs, ran their current victory string to five by topping Rudyard and Loretto in a triangular meet this week. Versatile Brad Shouldice was again a triple winner for Soo, copping the high hurdles, low hurdles and high jump. Rudyard's Larry Debruler switched from the 440 to the shorter dashes and won both the 100 and 220 sprints. Shouldice reached 5 feet 10 inches in the high jump, best in the Peninsula this spring.

The Pine Grove Country Club in Iron Mountain has a new course superintendent in Roger Schultz, 25, of Milwaukee. Schultz had served as superintendent of the Naga Wauke course at Waukesha and was assistant at Brynwood in Milwaukee.

The winning totals in this year's 56th annual Upper Peninsula men's bowling tournament, staged at the Silver Dome Lanes in Marinette, were comparatively low. A quick survey of past tourney records, dating back to 1923, reveal some all-time high performances. The best winning team score was the 3087 notched by Dells Supper Club's Gladstone team in 1963. Tops in doubles was a 1319 score registered by B. Aken and V. Beattie of Munising back in 1946. The all time singles champion was H. J. Christensen of Iron Mountain who spilled a 711 series in 1931. In all events Mel Hirvonen of Marquette reached a 1978 high in 1963.

Nips Boyle Twice

Soo Hurdler Sets Records

SAULT STE. MARIE — The Soo Blue Devils rode the flying heels of Brad Shouldice to victory in the third annual Kiwanis Invitational track and field meet here Wednesday night.

With the long-striding senior smashing records in both the high and low hurdles and winning the high jump, Soo piled up 50½ points to outclass the field of 20 schools.

Alpena was a distant second with 27, followed by Pickford 24, Petoskey 22, Escanaba 22, East Jordan 17, Cheboygan 14, Rudyard 11, Newberry 9½, Detroit 8, Charlevoix 8, Gladstone 7, Manistique 7, Munising 4.

Jim Hansen flipped the shot 50 feet 1½ inches and Jim Boyle sailed 19 feet 6 inches in the broad jump for the Eskymo firsts. Boyle also chased Shouldice to his record breaking performances, finishing a shade behind the Soo star in both the high and low hurdle races.

Carl Norkooli of Gladstone took first in his section of the 880 yard run with a 2:07.2 clocking.

Jerry Leach of Manistique won his mile section in the outstanding time of 4:45.9.

Other Eskymo point producers included Paul Miller with a tie for third in the high jump and the 880 yard relay unit of Boyle, Bill Bellefeuil, Tom Bjorkquist and Dave Braught with a fourth place finish.

Escanaba dashman Gary Vancieville was held out of action because of a muscle injury.

Mays Breaks Record With 512th Homerun

By The Associated Press
Willie Mays broke Mel Ott's National League Home run record by hitting No. 512 Wednesday night.

Ending a 10-day search for the record-breaker, Mays found the range in the fifth inning and surpassed Ott by tagging a pitch from Claude Osteen over the right field fence for his seventh homer of the season and 512th of his career.

Oddly, it was the first homer of the season by Mays that did not tie or win a game for the San Francisco Giants, who held a 4-1 lead en route to a 6-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers when the $125,000-a-year center fielder brought the crowd to its feet.

Although it didn't count as far as winning the game, it got Mays a two-minute standing ovation from the Candlestick Park crowd of 28,220, it ended a seven-game drought in which Mays hadn't driven in a run and it ended a string of 96 innings in which Osteen had not allowed a homer.

Fan Keeps Ball
Mays, however, will have nothing to show for it, except a line in the record book. He got his cake, but didn't eat it. And he got his ball, but couldn't keep it.

The ball was retrieved by Henry Garrison Jr., 17, of Oakland, Calif., but his father didn't want to part with it.

"I was offered $100 and I think it was worth more," Garrison said.

But he still asked Mays to autograph it, and Mays did, remarking:

"Be my guest and keep it."

Mays gave scant notice to the cake supplied for the occasion, a yellow cake with "512" written on in white frosting. He didn't spot it until after he had showered, and it went untouched.

"That thing must have been here a week," Mays quipped.

Mays probably will pass two more goals this season. He figures to climb above both Ted Williams, who hit 521 homers, and Jimmy Foxx, who hit 534, before the season ends.

That would leave only one more target — Babe Ruth and his 714 homers.

While Mays provided the hitting excitement, Jack Hamilton of the New York Mets provided the pitching excitement by allowing only one hit in an 8-0 victory at St. Louis — a bunt single by opposing pitcher Ray Sadecki in the third inning.

Elsewhere, Chris Short pitched a two-hitter in Philadelphia's 2-1 victory over Atlanta, Houston's Robin Roberts shut out the Chicago Cubs 4-0 on seven hits and Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 4-3.

In the American League, Cleveland nipped the New York Yankees 2-1, Washington edged Baltimore 3-2, Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 6-1, Boston walloped Detroit 7-0 and California crushed Kansas City 13-2.

Even though Mays stole the show at Candlestick, Joe Gibbon made an impressive first start for the Giants by setting the Dodgers down on four hits.

Osteen was in trouble before Mays tagged his homer, helping San Francisco to three unearned runs in a four-run second inning. He hit Jim Hart, allowed a single by Orlando Cepeda and then threw away Jesus Alou's bouncer for one run. Hal Lanier singled home another and Jim Davenport followed with a two-run single.

Hamilton, bringing his record to 3-1, surrendered his only hit when Sadecki laid a two-out bunt down the third base line and beat Ken Boyer's throw to first. The 26-year-old right-hander, purchased from Detroit during the off-season, struck out six, walked only one and allowed only two balls hit out of the infield.

Ron Swoboda and Ed Bresoud gave Hamilton all the support he needed by slamming homers.

Short was touched for both hits by Denis Menke, who singled to center in the fifth inning and hit a homer in the eighth. The Phillie southpaw struck out five and walked two in bringing his record to 3-1.

Tony Gonzalez provided the first Phillie run with a homer in the second inning off Ken Johnson and the other came across on consecutive fourth inning singles by Dick Groat, Bill White and John Callison.

Roberts, winning his second in a row after three losses, brought the Astros their fourth straight victory. Joe Morgan singled in the first run and Dave Nicholson took care of the other three with a homer off Dick Eklund.

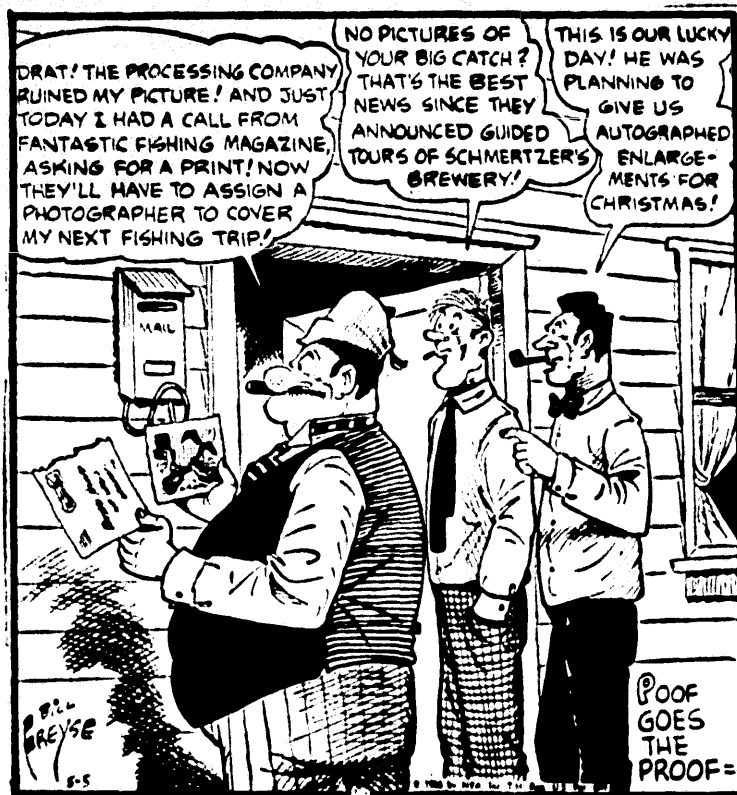

Bob Bailey homered for the Pirates first run in the third inning before they pushed across three unearned fourth inning runs with the aid of two errors by Reds' third baseman Pete Rose.

Red Sox Rookie Leading Homer Hitter In AL

By The Associated Press
"Great Scott," exclaimed Manager Billy Herman when he saw the rookie infielder sporting an ascot on a spring training trip.

So George Scott discarded the neckwear, but not the nickname.

Scott, Boston's dapper young first baseman, took over the American League home run lead Wednesday night with his sixth and seventh of the season as the Red Sox blanked Detroit 7-0 on Earl Wilson's two-hitter.

It was just that kind of slugging that earned Scott a starting job during spring training.

Scott drove in five runs with his two homers as the Red Sox won their fifth game and third against Detroit this season.

Elsewhere, Fred Whitfield's ninth inning homer gave Cleveland a 2-1 decision over New York in a game in which Indians' shortstop Larry Brown suffered a fractured skull when he collided with teammate Leon Wagner going after a fly ball.

Washington whipped Baltimore 3-2, Minnesota rocked Chicago 6-1 and California ripped Kansas City 13-2 in other games.

In the National League, New York blanked St. Louis 8-0, Philadelphia shaded Atlanta 2-1, Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 4-3, Houston shut out Chicago 4-0 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 6-1 as Willie Mays set a league career home run record with his 512th.

Scott's first homer followed one by Wilson in the fifth inning.

In the ninth, Scott hammered his second homer of the night, just missing the left field roof with a long drive.

Whitfield, the Yankees' No. 1

nemesis, beat New York with a homer for the third time this season. The veteran first baseman, who played under New York Manager Johnny Keane when Keane managed the St. Louis Cardinals, has punished Yankee pitching for 13 homers in the last two seasons.

Brown and Wagner collided in the fourth inning chasing Roger Maris' blooper. Brown was reported in serious condition at Lenox Hill Hospital where examination revealed a fractured skull, fractured nose and fractured cheekbone.

Wagner suffered a broken nose.

The Senators, who ended Baltimore's 10-game winning streak Tuesday, beat the Orioles again with three pitchers combining for a five-hitter.

Relievers Dick Lines and Ron Kline permitted just three hits over the last 5 2-3 innings after starter Jim Duckworth was forced to leave the game with a back injury in the fourth inning.

Minnesota scored three runs on one hit in the first inning and went on to beat Chicago as Jim Kaat scattered nine White Sox hits.

Don Mincher's double following an error and a walk produced two runs and then Don Buford's throwing error brought Mincher home with the third run for the Twins.

Bob Rodgers whacked four hits and Norm Siebern and Jack Warner drove in two runs apiece as the Angels racked Kansas City. Dean Chance pitched a six-hitter and the Angels battered three Athletic pitchers for 17 hits.

No Snap Decisions On Monbo's Future; Dressen Will Wait

DETROIT (AP)—Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen isn't going to make any snap decisions about pitcher Bill Monbouquette despite the fact he has not lasted more than five innings his last two times out.

"He was having control trouble again tonight," Dressen said Wednesday night after the Tigers were blanked, 7-0, by Boston on Earl Wilson's three-hitter.

"He was throwing high curves and when he does that and can't snap out of it quick, he's in trouble," Dressen continued.

"I'll wait until the weather warms up and he gets a chance to pitch under better conditions before I get panicky," Dressen added.

The temperature stood at a brisk 46 degrees at game time.

Wilson aided his own cause with a home run off Monbouquette in the third inning, but the big villain was rookie George Scott.

Scott touched Monbouquette for a two-run homer in the third and clouted a three-run homer high in the left field stands off Larry Sherry in the ninth.

Center fielder Mickey Stanley came close to snagging Scott's first drive as he leaped high to the right of the 400-foot sign and Sherry in the ninth.

Center fielder Mickey Stanley came close to snagging Scott's first drive as he leaped high to the right of the 400-foot sign and looked like he had the ball in his glove.

"It just tipped the fingers of my glove," Stanley said. "I should have had it but jumped just a little too soon."

The home runs were the sixth and seventh for Scott who credited his power hitting to the fact that he is playing first base. He was a third baseman for most of his minor league career.

"There's not much moving around out there," Scott explained. "So I can save myself for the heavy hitting. I haven't played much but I'm liking it more and more there."

Boston Manager Billy Herman, who has seen his team win but five times in 17 starts—three of them over the Tigers—feels Scott may be the sleeper in the league.

"He's got power. No doubt about that. That one Stanley almost caught was the cheapest homer he's hit. And you saw where it landed," Herman said.

Wilson did not allow a hit until Don Wert beat out a grounder to deep short in the fifth inning.

Norm Cash's single to right in the seventh and Jerry Lumpe's single to center in the ninth were the only other hits off Wilson.

Only two others reached base off the righthander — Lumpe on Rico Petrocelli's error in the first and Stanley on a walk in the third.

The Red Sox got their first run in the third inning on singles by Bob Tillman, Wilson and Jim Gosger. Gosger also had two other singles.

The Tigers were off today and start a seven-game road trip in Chicago Friday night.

Denny McLain is Dressen's choice to open the series. Gary Peters is the Chicago probable.

DETROIT (AP) — The National Hockey League's Board of Governors faces a tough decision when it comes to voting for the most valuable player in this year's Stanley Cup playoffs.

Detroit Red Wings goalie Roger Crozier, who performed brilliantly in the semifinal series against Chicago and in the first two games of the finals against Montreal, appeared to be a shoo-in.

But Crozier was injured last Sunday after playing less than six minutes. He returned Tuesday night, and the Canadians won 5-1 to take a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 series.

The player named the most valuable in the playoffs receives the Conn Smythe Trophy — donated in 1964 by the Toronto Maple Leafs — $1,000 and a new automobile. The latter prize is new this year.

Though the award does not necessarily have to go to a member of the winning team, players on the championship team probably draw more consideration.

If the Canadians win their second straight cup either tonight in Detroit or Saturday in Montreal, the MVP race probably would boil down to a battle between two and possibly three players.

Jean Beliveau, who won the first award last year, has a better than even chance of repeating.

He has scored four goals and added five assists in the playoffs and has been the main cog in the Canadiens' surge in the finals after they dropped the first two games.

Beliveau was named the top player in Tuesday night's triumph despite the fact he failed to contribute a point.

Beliveau's chief competitor is defenseman J. C. Tremblay, who tops both teams with six points in the finals, five of them on assists.

He also has played a strong

Seney's Lively Past Was Sometimes Deadly

By ROSE LACHAPPELLE

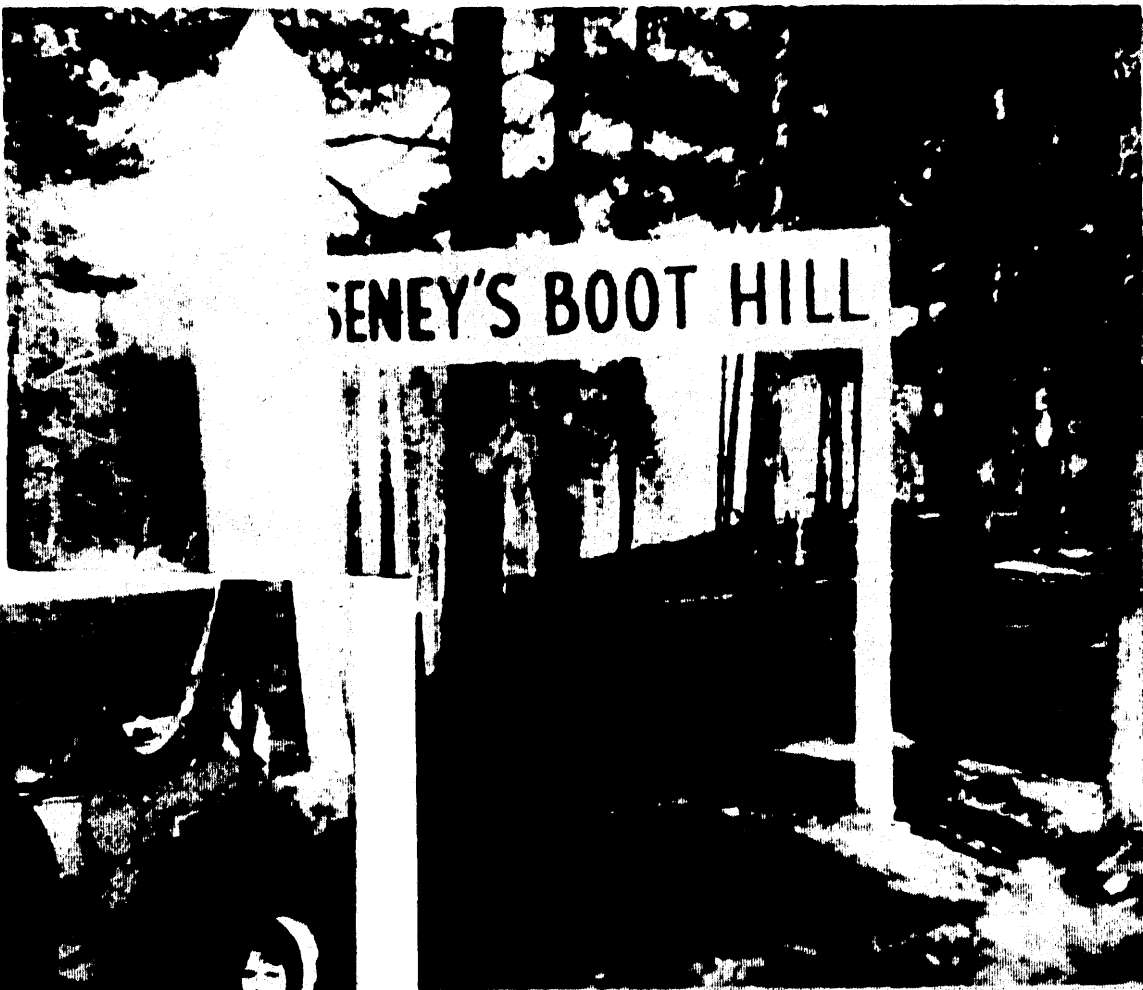

SENEY—This one-time lumber town has a lively (but not lurid) past and one of the points of local interest is the lumberjack cemetery along the old Seney Road.

The township set up the "Boot Hill" sign and 4-H Club members made white markers for the graves among the pines. Here, where there hasn't been a burial for more than 40 years, visitors recall Seney's wild days, when a lumberjack could get a broken head as a souvenir of a night on the town.

Seney had its sane and hardworking side as well, and a relic of that period is the Bullock Tractor.

Henry Ketola and his daughter, Diana, 5, stand beside the "creeping grip tractor" used by Henry's father, the late Emil Ketola, on the Bullock farm. It was manufactured by Henry Bullock in Chicago about 1915 and was once used on a farm northwest of Seney.

The machine was powered with a two-cylinder engine. It was used for cutting wood also, but is now retired as a curiosity of the past.

Ask 300 Persons Complete Return For Medicare

The Escanaba Social Security Office is sending out letters to approximately 300 people in its service area asking them to complete and return applications for medicare insurance.

Most of these people had filed a short form application to meet the March 31 and the extended May 31 enrollment deadlines. Although these short form applications are protective, they do not contain all the information necessary to process them, according to Arnold T. Williams, District manager.

The Social Security Administration is making every effort to process all medicare applications before the health insurance program goes into effect on July 1, he said.

Persons who are now being contacted by mail or who are being invited to come in to the social security office to file applications are urged to do so promptly, so that most applications can be completely processed within the next two to three weeks.

Dezi Arnez Is Back At Desilu

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After a three-year absence, Dezi Arnez is back at work in the studio that bears his name. But there's a difference.

Whereas the onetime bongo drum-pounder once ruled the Desilu empire, he is now a renter of space at Desilu Culver studio. He occupies the suite which David O. Selznick used until his death last year. In honor of Desi's return, the place has been redecorated from "Gone With The Wind" decadent to California casual.

The lady who ordered the redecoration is Lucille Ball, Desi's former wife and costar, and his successor as president of Desilu.

"The prettiest landlady in the world," he said. "And a wonderful woman."

Their connection now is purely as landlady and lessor, since Desi sold Lucille all his Desilu stock when he stepped out of the business three years ago.

Why did he leave?

"For a number of reasons," he said. "I found that I was working terribly hard, mostly in things that I wasn't particularly interested in. I was stuck with the managerial end of running three studios with 3,000 employees. That wasn't what I got into the business for."

"I enjoyed the creative end — getting together with some writers on an idea, following through with scripts, casting the project and bringing forth the final product. But I found myself tied up with a factory operation."
